

April News From The Two's

Exciting new learning opportunities are popping up all over the classroom this month. April is a month of renewal in the natural and spiritual world. We've begun watching "Springtime" slowly pushing up through the ground in the form of Iris and Crocus planted along the walkways. The birds are readily available for us to study and learn about. We will look at how they build their nest, what they eat, how their babies come from eggs and what their feathers feel like.

Our weekly themes and Bible lessons include: Bunny Stretching and Our God is an Awesome God.

We are working on learning life principles through play as children are more likely to remember through play. Games hold a child's attention, allowing lessons to sink in all in the spirit of fun. Consider the character traits that are fostered during a simple game: humor, fairness, honesty, generosity, concentration, flexibility, and obedience to rules, and sensitivity. We complete puzzles together, taking turns adding pieces. Parents encourage sharing by sending snack that we share with friends. We play together in the same area with toys that are multi pieces like blocks and kitchen. We work together with a common pile of art supplies using what we need and sharing our crayons and play dough.

Spring Blessings,
