GRACE NOTES / FPC Moorestown Way of the Week January 5-12, 2020

2. SPEAK THE TRUTH WITH LOVE. Speak honestly and directly in a way that clearly reflects love and support for one another. Be courageous enough to say what needs to be said, even when it's difficult. Address issues directly with those who are involved or affected; speak to, not about, others.
(Read: Ephesians 4: 29; Ephesians 4: 31; Ephesians 4: 15)

"You can pay me now or you can pay me later."

Some of us of a certain age may recall this tag line from an old television ad for Fram Oil Filters. A mechanic wiped his greasy hands as he spoke to the camera, "I just replaced his engine. He'll pay me a lot for it. He could have spent $10 for a new oil filter and saved himself a bunch. You can pay me now or you can pay me later." You'll pay the mechanic, now or later. As a general rule, you'll pay more later.

I think this rule applies to relationships — spouses, children, parents, siblings, staff, and church members. You'll pay more later than earlier but there's always a bill to pay. I'm referring to conflict. Because we're a collection of redeemed sinners, we can expect disagreements, disputes and somebody having a bad day around here. This means that conflicts are coming to First Presbyterian Church of Moorestown.

A member of a former church of mine is an attorney. He has no problem with conflict. He deals with it every day. He might even love conflict. I don't, and I'm not alone. I don't know where God falls on the love-hate continuum with conflict; I do know that God uses conflict and often redeems us by helping us grow up in the thick of it. That's why this Way is critical in building up our congregation. Way #2 encourages us to "pay early" by speaking "honestly and directly in way that clearly reflects love and support for one another." When someone speaks to me this way, and a few of you have, I'll always welcome your words. I'd rather hear from you than see you disappear because you'd prefer to avoid the tough conversation. Hard conversations only get harder, not easier, as time passes. You pay me later than you will earlier. Just listen to the car mechanic.

Stuart Spencer, Pastor

New Sermon Series: Finding Comfort

Q. What is your only comfort in life and in death?

A. That I am not my own, but belong— body and soul, in life and in death to my faithful Savior, Jesus Christ.

On January 5th, Pastor Spencer begins a sermon series called "Finding Comfort." Stuart and other preachers from our pastoral staff will be preaching on biblical themes from the Heidelberg Catechism. The Heidelberg Catechism, released in 1563, is one of the primary Reformed summaries of the faith that emerged from the Protestant Reformation. Today the Catechism remains a guide for preaching in many Reformed churches as the Catechism includes summary observations on key topics like the Apostles' Creed, the Ten Commandments, and the Lord's Prayer. For a full version of the Catechism visit: <https://www.crcna.org/welcome/beliefs/confessions/heidelberg-catechism>
